Message from the Executive Chairman

Guided by vision, driven by conviction, and measurable impact

Serving the community that shaped my earliest dreams has been my greatest honour. It has been more than a duty; it has been a privilege and a defining chapter of my life.

Over the years, we have walked this journey together. From 2017 through 2025, our administration delivered not just infrastructure, but impact; not just programs, but possibilities. This final report chronicles the vision, the people, and the progress that have defined our tenure. It is both a celebration and a closing statement, a legacy built not by one person but by the collective spirit of a community committed to growth.

Each challenge we faced became a stepping stone, and each project was a testament to what can be achieved when conviction meets collaboration. From the very beginning, our approach was guided by a belief that leadership must be measured by the lives it touches and the dignity it restores.

Together, we expanded access to education, empowered entrepreneurs, enhanced public health, and built roads that connect more than places; they connect people to opportunities. We revitalized public spaces, strengthened our digital infrastructure, and never lost sight of Ikoyi-Obalende's heartbeat: its people.

This report, themed "Purpose. People. Progress.", captures not just what we did, but why we did it,and who we did it for.

As I prepare to hand over the baton, I do so with confidence in our shared future. The foundation has been laid. The systems are in place. And the spirit of service that carried us this far must now guide the next chapter.

To every resident, stakeholder, and partner who believed in this journey, thank you. The progress we've made belongs to you. The work ahead demands your continued engagement.

Let us remain guided by vision, driven by conviction, and always measured by impact.

Hon. Fuad Atanda-Lawal
Executive Chairman, Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA

Executive Summary

The period from 2023 to 2025 represents a dynamic and impactful phase in the evolution of the Ikoyi-Obalende Local Council Development Area (LCDA). This Impact Report, themed "Purpose. People. Progress. Guided by vision, driven by conviction, measured by impact," encapsulates a series of transformative projects and initiatives designed to elevate our community's quality of life, ensure inclusive growth, and reinforce sustainable development.

Under the strategic guidance of the LCDA leadership, substantial progress was made across critical sectors, including infrastructure, health, education, empowerment, and community engagement:

- Infrastructure and Community Development: Major infrastructural initiatives were undertaken, notably the comprehensive reconstruction and rehabilitation of roads and drainage systems, including Probyn Road, Royal Palm Drive, Acacia Road, and Bayo Kuku Street. The administration emphasized creating safer, flood-resistant environments through improved drainage systems and durable road surfaces. Additionally, rehabilitation projects revitalized the Council Secretariat and various community facilities.

- Empowerment and Economic Growth: From cash handouts to digital disbursements, our empowerment programs have evolved to promote transparency and financial inclusion. Through Empowering Her Fortune 1 and 2.0, over ₦100 million has been distributed since 2023, directly supporting women-led businesses and underserved entrepreneurs. These initiatives have not only boosted small businesses but also connected more women to formal financial systems for the first time.

- Health and Well-being: Beyond rebuilding the Senator Oluremi Tinubu PHC and raising doctors' salaries by 100%, the LCDA expanded access to care through free health screenings—malaria, kidney, breast cancer, powered by partnerships like Ilera Eko. Awareness campaigns, including Autism outreach with Cradle Lounge, reinforced our commitment to inclusive, community-centered health.

- Education and Youth Development: The LCDA's commitment to education is reflected in initiatives like the Back to School Initiative at Obalende Primary School and the rehabilitation of the cafeteria at Hope Primary School, ensuring students return to improved, nourishing, and inspiring learning environments.

- Sports and Recreation: Recognizing the importance of inclusive sports, the LCDA successfully hosted events such as the Para Football Skate Soccer Championship and completed construction of the iREP recreational facility in Ijeh, enhancing community cohesion and promoting active lifestyles.

Integral to this term's approach was the emphasis on citizen engagement and inclusive governance. We championed inclusive governance with consistent resident feedback loops, fostering transparency and allowing community voices to shape policy directions. This collaborative approach ensured that developmental projects resonated with and directly benefited the residents of Ikoyi-Obalende.

As we conclude this tenure, our leadership reaffirms its dedication to impactful governance, setting a robust foundation for the continued progress of Ikoyi-Obalende. We invite every community member, stakeholder, and partner to remain actively engaged, ensuring sustainable growth and prosperity for years to come.

Vision of the Future

Our vision for Ikoyi-Obalende remains ambitious and clear: to cultivate a community where purpose-driven initiatives foster inclusive prosperity, where every individual's potential is recognized and nurtured, and where sustained progress creates lasting impacts for generations to come.

We envision Ikoyi-Obalende as a vibrant hub of innovation and entrepreneurship, a place where businesses of all sizes thrive and provide meaningful opportunities for residents. Education in our community will continue to be a cornerstone, accessible to all, empowering our youth to become leaders, innovators, and active citizens.

In our future, healthcare systems will be robust and responsive, ensuring the well-being of every resident, and infrastructure development will prioritize sustainability and resilience, safeguarding our environment while enhancing daily life.

Above all, we aspire to an engaged community, united by shared goals and mutual respect, where voices are heard, and dreams are supported. Ikoyi-Obalende will continue to be celebrated for its cultural richness, its economic vibrancy, and its unyielding community spirit.

Together, we will uphold the vision of Ikoyi-Obalende as a beacon of purposeful living, engaged people, and measurable progress.

Our Unique Identity

The Essence of Ikoyi-Obalende

Ikoyi-Obalende stands as a vibrant embodiment of purposeful living, community-driven progress, and a collective spirit. Rooted deeply in historical significance and cultural diversity, our community symbolizes the dynamic intersection of Nigeria's rich heritage and its progressive future.

Purposeful Heritage:
Ikoyi-Obalende's identity is profoundly shaped by its rich history and cultural tapestry. Our streets narrate stories from different eras, echoing with the resilience and vision of generations. From colonial landmarks to contemporary architectural marvels, every structure and space is a purposeful nod to our evolving narrative and our determination to honor tradition while fostering modern growth.

People-Centric Community:
At its core, Ikoyi-Obalende thrives on the strength and diversity of its people. Our community spirit is sustained by vibrant festivals, active social clubs, engaged associations, and dedicated organizations, each celebrating and promoting unity, belonging, and mutual respect. Our people embody resilience, innovation, and collaboration, driving forward inclusive growth and shared prosperity.

Progress Through Innovation:
As a prominent economic hub, Ikoyi-Obalende exemplifies the harmonious blend of traditional values and modern ambitions. Strategic infrastructural developments and a favorable business environment attract both local entrepreneurs and global enterprises, promoting economic vibrancy and community prosperity. Environmental challenges and infrastructural concerns are met with innovative, sustainable solutions born from the active partnership between the local government, the private sector, and residents.

The Cultural Significance of Ikoyi-Obalende

Ikoyi-Obalende is more than a geographic location; it is a living narrative of Nigeria's multifaceted identity. Each festival, artistic expression, and culinary tradition underscores our cultural richness. Even as our skyline evolves with modern developments, the heart of our community remains deeply connected to the rhythms, traditions, and vibrancy that define us.

In essence, Ikoyi-Obalende's uniqueness lies in its powerful narrative of purposeful preservation, community-driven unity, and innovative progress, a place where every resident contributes to the ongoing story of a community dedicated to sustainable growth and cultural pride.

Our Approach

At the core of our development strategy lies a steadfast alignment with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), a global framework shaping our long-term vision for a resilient, inclusive, and equitable Ikoyi-Obalende.

Our commitment to the SDGs drives focused action across key priority areas: quality education, healthcare access, clean water and sanitation, gender equality, economic empowerment, and infrastructure development. Each project is intentionally crafted not just to meet local needs but to also contribute meaningfully to broader global goals.

But our approach goes beyond policies and frameworks, it is deeply people-centered and partnership-driven. We recognize that no single institution can solve systemic challenges alone. That is why Public-Private Partnerships (PPPs) are central to our execution model.

From infrastructure and education to health and digital access, we have worked alongside private sector actors, civil society, and government agencies to co-create impactful solutions. These collaborations allow us to scale resources, accelerate delivery, and bring in innovative thinking that enhances every initiative.

Coupled with direct community feedback, continuous data collection, and transparent engagement, our approach remains dynamic—responsive to the evolving needs of our people and grounded in shared responsibility.

Education
Expanding equitable access to quality education, raising literacy levels, and creating diverse educational pathways for all community members.

Environment
Promoting environmental responsibility, effective waste management, recycling initiatives, and proactive flood mitigation strategies to safeguard our community.

Healthcare
Enhancing the quality, accessibility, and affordability of healthcare services for every resident, thereby improving overall community well-being.

Empowerment
Strengthening the economic potential and resilience of our community members, particularly women and youth, through targeted financial and skill-building programs.

Infrastructure
Delivering robust, sustainable infrastructure projects that significantly enhance the quality of life, connectivity, and safety within our community.

In Ikoyi-Obalende, sustainable development isn't just a goal, it is a commitment shaped by collaboration, guided by purpose, and measured by lasting impact.

Community Feedback Initiative

At the heart of our service to the people of Ikoyi-Obalende lies an unwavering commitment to listen, understand, and respond genuinely. Our community feedback initiative represents more than just data collection—it is a heartfelt pledge to place our residents' voices at the very center of our governance approach.

By establishing structured opportunities for direct dialogue through surveys, interviews, and community meetings, we created meaningful spaces for residents to share their experiences, hopes, and concerns openly. Every story shared, every voice heard, was a powerful reminder of why we serve.

This initiative allowed us to better appreciate the real-life impact of our efforts, revealing not just what worked, but also highlighting areas for growth and improvement. The feedback gathered became an essential guide, shaping our policies, programs, and actions, and reaffirming our mission: to serve with empathy, transparency, and effectiveness.

Moving forward, this process will remain foundational—continuously evolving, ensuring that governance in Ikoyi-Obalende remains deeply connected to the daily realities and aspirations of its people. Together, let us keep building a community where every voice matters, every experience counts, and every individual feels seen and valued.

Looking Back

A LEGACY OF PROGRESS 2017 – 2023

The story of Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA is one of consistent progress, unwavering dedication, and a profound commitment to placing people at the heart of governance. Over the years—from 2017 through 2023, our projects have not merely represented physical developments; they have embodied our collective values, aspirations, and relentless pursuit of sustainable and inclusive growth.

In reviewing this legacy, you will see that our approach has consistently revolved around active community engagement, responsive governance, strategic collaboration, and unwavering alignment with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Each project undertaken, whether infrastructural improvements, environmental conservation efforts, health enhancements, economic empowerment initiatives, or educational investments, was a deliberate response to the expressed needs of our community.

Between 2017 and 2020, we implemented over 40 transformative projects across infrastructure, environment, health, empowerment, and education sectors, each carefully planned, executed, and tailored to meet immediate and long-term community needs. Infrastructure developments dramatically improved the safety, accessibility, and vibrancy of our neighbourhoods, while environmental initiatives promoted sustainability and well-being.

Health projects prioritized accessible medical services, and empowerment programs profoundly elevated household economies, dignity, and social cohesion. Educational investments ensured brighter futures for thousands of children, significantly reducing financial burdens for families.

Continuing the momentum, between 2020 and 2023, more than 35 impactful projects further deepened our commitment to comprehensive community growth. Enhanced roads and drainage systems, revitalized health facilities equipped with modern technology, innovative empowerment strategies, and pioneering educational enhancements continued to mark our approach. Feedback loops became more structured, ensuring that each initiative genuinely reflected community priorities and effectively addressed their evolving needs.

As you revisit the highlights of these pivotal years through subsequent pages, it becomes evident that our consistent dedication to participatory governance, sustainable development, and inclusive decision-making laid a robust foundation. These principles and actions form the core of our identity and remain the cornerstone of our journey forward.

Together, the residents and leadership of Ikoyi-Obalende have built not just projects, but a lasting legacy of trust, collaboration, and meaningful progress. It is this enduring legacy that propels us confidently into the future, guided always by the voices, hopes, and aspirations of the community we proudly serve.

A Legacy of Progress: 2017 to 2020

FOUNDATION. VISION. MOMENTUM.

In every season of transformation, there's a starting point, a moment where leadership, vision, and community converge to chart a new course. For Ikoyi-Obalende, that moment came in 2017. What began as a mission to improve daily life through responsive local governance quickly matured into a people-centered movement grounded in consistency, innovation, and measurable impact.

Between 2017 and 2020, the Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA embarked on a groundbreaking journey that laid the foundation for a bold new era. Across five focus areas, Infrastructure, Healthcare, Education, Empowerment, and the Environment, the administration launched and completed projects that reached deep into the lives of residents.

These early efforts were not just about fixing roads or erecting buildings; they were about rekindling trust in governance, restoring dignity to underserved populations, and setting a new standard for what local development could be.

Two milestone impact reports, the 2017–2018 report and the comprehensive 2017–2020 report, offered residents and stakeholders a transparent window into the administration's goals, execution strategies, and outcomes.

Each report marked a step forward not only in documentation but also in the evolution of a governance style that prioritized listening, learning, and delivering.

In infrastructure, more than 30 projects across roads, streetlights, and drainage were completed, bringing light, access, and safety to communities long overlooked.

In education, over 3,400 children received school kits, including uniforms, books, and bags, while multiple primary schools were renovated to provide safer, more dignified learning environments.

In healthcare, the construction and upgrade of primary health centres in Ijeh and Obalende brought 24-hour service closer to home, especially for mothers and children.

In empowerment, more than 3,000 individuals, including women, artisans, and the unemployed, were equipped with grants, tools, and vocational training.

In environmental reform, strategic investments in clean water access, weed clearing, and sanitation helped build healthier, more resilient public spaces.

These achievements were made possible through collaboration with residents, whose voices were increasingly brought into the development process through town halls, feedback systems, and local consultations. This period was not just a chapter, it was the beginning of a legacy. And it proved that when government serves with purpose and listens with humility, progress becomes personal.

A Legacy of Progress: 2020 to 2023

SERVING. LEADING. BUILDING

From 2020 to 2023, Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA experienced a period of accelerated transformation, one marked by bold initiatives, citizen-focused reforms, and a firm commitment to shared prosperity. This chapter, forged in the context of global uncertainties and national policy shifts like the removal of fuel subsidies, demonstrates what determined local governance can achieve when vision meets action.

At the heart of this impact period lies a people-first approach. Under the leadership of Executive Chairman Fuad Atanda-Lawal, every intervention, whether infrastructural or social, was built on a foundation of inclusion, transparency, and sustainable growth.

The administration's strategy aligned directly with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), making it both locally relevant and globally conscious.

KEY IMPACT PILLARS

1. Infrastructure & Environment

Over 20 major roads were rebuilt or upgraded, including Olu Holloway, George Street, and Raymond Njoku, easing traffic and boosting safety. Critical drainage works and the replacement of 297 stolen manhole covers addressed flooding and sanitation concerns across Ikoyi and Obalende.

2. Education & Digital Equity

Renovations at Ikoyi Primary, Obalende Primary, and St. George's School introduced smart classrooms and solar power. Students received tablets and homeschooling kits, while communities benefited from free Wi-Fi access.

3. Healthcare Modernization

PHCs were upgraded with solar power, EMR systems, and diagnostic programs. Campaigns like kidney screenings improved care, especially for women, children, and the elderly.

4. Empowerment & Economic Growth

Over ₦100 million was disbursed through Empower Her Fortune 1 & 2.0, directly supporting artisans, traders, and women-led businesses with tools, grants, and training. Strategic youth partnerships with Jobberman connected thousands to employment. In response to the economic challenges triggered by fuel subsidy removal, community food banks were established to provide immediate relief and nutrition support for vulnerable households, underscoring the administration's responsiveness and care.

5. Urban Safety & Recreation

Streetlight retrofitting and new patrol bikes improved security. Projects like iRep Ikoyi Park provided residents safe, modern spaces for rest, play, and community bonding.

The Pulse of Our Community: Resident Feedback

Listening, Learning, Leading.

Under the leadership of Honourable Fuad Atanda-Lawal, the Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA has prioritized genuine dialogue with the residents we serve. Our comprehensive community feedback initiative was conducted to ensure our governance aligns deeply with the real, daily experiences and aspirations of the community.

The feedback we collected was not simply data it was a collection of personal narratives, insightful reflections, and heartfelt appreciations from residents, business owners, community leaders, and youth across diverse neighbourhoods. The outcomes from this detailed exercise provided a nuanced understanding of how our projects impacted daily life, highlighting areas of significant success and offering clear pathways for continued improvement.

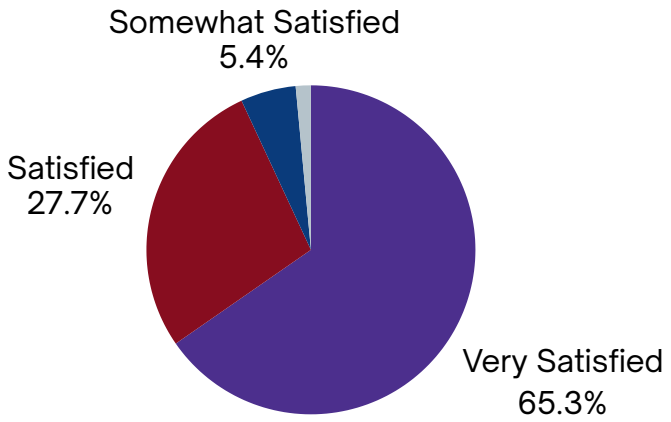

Key findings from the community feedback included strong endorsements of the infrastructural improvements such as road rehabilitations and drainage clearing, with numerous respondents highlighting enhanced mobility, reduced flooding, and improved local business environments. Healthcare initiatives, especially the reconstruction of primary health centres and the Nourish a Soul program, received praise for improving accessibility and well-being, particularly for vulnerable groups.

Economic empowerment efforts through targeted programs like “Empower Her Fortune 1.0 & 2.0” significantly boosted household economies, restored dignity, and strengthened the local economic fabric. Similarly, educational interventions, notably the Back-to-School initiative and scholarship provisions, were highlighted as transformative for numerous families, significantly alleviating financial burdens and fostering educational equity.

Resident Satisfaction with Completed LCDA Projects (2017–2025)

The community's overwhelming endorsement of Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA's work over the past eight years is both powerful and deeply affirming. In our latest feedback initiative, an impressive 99% of respondents reported that they had personally benefited from the projects implemented within their neighborhoods an unmistakable sign that governance has become tangible, accessible, and responsive.

When asked to rate the quality and impact of completed projects from 2017 to 2025, the results were even more telling:

63% of respondents (132 people) gave a perfect 100% satisfaction rating, reflecting complete confidence in the LCDA's project execution.

An additional 28% (59 people) reported they were satisfied, rating the projects at 80%.

Only a small fraction (6.4%) expressed moderate or low satisfaction, indicating minimal gaps in delivery and widespread project reach.

With an average satisfaction rating of 90%, this data reflects not just good governance, but a leadership style that connects, listens, and delivers.

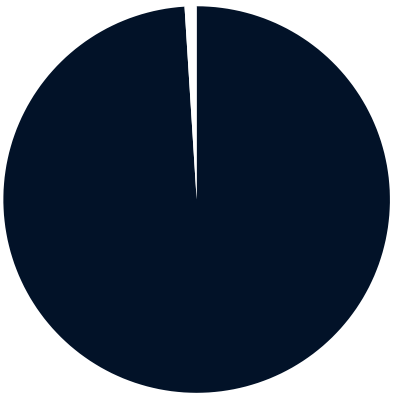

The LCDA's people-first approach continues to earn trust, deepen civic pride, and inspire shared ownership in Ikoyi-Obalende's journey of transformation.

Project Impact Assessment: Governance That Touches Lives

The data from our latest community engagement exercise presents a compelling picture of real, measurable transformation.

An overwhelming 99% of participants reported that they had directly or indirectly benefited from LCDA projects an indicator not just of visibility, but of deep, personal impact.

Impact on Residents: Tangible Change Across Sectors

This chart shows how different sectors have improved residents' lives in Ikoyi-Obalende:

- Infrastructure (81%) made the biggest difference, especially road repairs, better drainage, and improved street lighting. Residents say this helped with safety, movement, and even business growth.
- Environment (55%) and Health (55%) were also key. Clean drainages and access to healthcare helped reduce disease and made neighbourhoods safer and healthier.
- Empowerment (46%) programs, like grants and wage increases, gave many people, especially women and small business owners, a financial boost.
- Education (41%) also saw real benefits, with families mentioning school kits and scholarships as major support.

Together, these numbers show how the LCDA's work has focused on real people and real needs, not just policies, but visible improvements where people live, learn, and work.

Leadership That Connects, Listens, and Responds

One of the more subtle yet powerful achievements of the Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA administration has been its redefinition of the relationship between government and citizens. More than infrastructure, policies, or programs, it has been the quality of leadership—compassionate, present, and responsive—that residents remember most.

Through regular surveys, community consultations, and town hall meetings, residents were not only heard but actively involved in shaping the direction of governance. As one respondent poignantly stated:

> "Just asking us what we think shows that this government sees us. Please continue."

This leadership style fostered a genuine connection between the LCDA and the people, proving that governance can—and should—be a collaborative journey.

Peaceful Coexistence and a Shared Identity

Among the most enduring legacies of this administration is the strengthened sense of unity and shared identity within the LCDA. Ikoyi-Obalende is one of Nigeria's most diverse communities, and this diversity has historically been both a strength and a challenge. Under this leadership, it has become a bridge.

From Ijeh to Obalende, residents from various backgrounds Yoruba, Igbo, Hausa, and more—have come together in mutual respect and pride for a shared future. The LCDA is no longer viewed as a distant institution, but as ours—a collective platform for all.

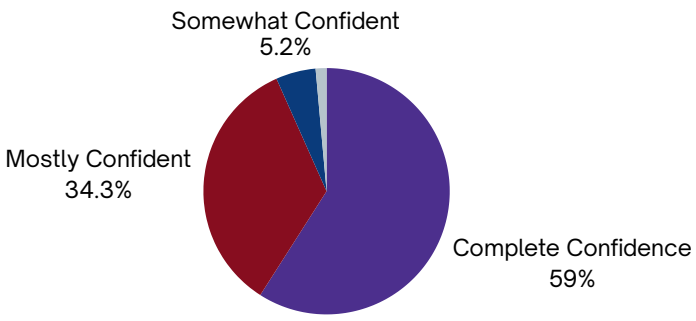

One resident, Don Ike, captured this transformation with heart:

> "In Igbo land, we say, 'Ana amu eze amu'… a king is born. Fuad is born a leader. Nobody gave him a chance. He has shown that youth can do a lot if given the chance."

This inclusive spirit is a rare and valuable political achievement, serving as a model for unity in diversity.

Performance Rating: A Strong Vote of Confidence

Residents were asked to rate the performance of the LCDA administration on a scale of 1 to 100%. The outcome:

These ratings confirm the overwhelming approval shared during interviews and town halls. Residents pointed to smoother roads, safer streets, cleaner drainage, reliable healthcare, empowered businesses, and responsive governance as their top reasons for satisfaction.

Together, these metrics and voices form a consistent picture: an administration trusted by its people, guided by empathy, and defined by results.

Areas to improve

Healthcare:

Expand free medical outreach programs with a stronger focus on chronic illnesses such as hypertension and diabetes, especially among elderly and low-income residents. Mobile clinics, follow-up care, and health education can be integrated to ensure long-term impact and accessibility.

Youth employment:

While efforts have been made to support youth through existing skill acquisition and empowerment initiatives, feedback from young residents indicates a strong desire for more robust and inclusive interventions. There is a pressing need for the LCDA to deepen its investment in youth-focused vocational training, employment generation, and entrepreneurship support.

This includes expanding access to modern training facilities, aligning programs with current labor market demands—particularly in the digital and creative sectors—and fostering stronger partnerships with the private sector to facilitate internships, apprenticeships, and job placements.

Public feedback channels:

To sustain the trust that has been built and deepen citizen engagement, the LCDA can institutionalise structured public feedback mechanisms. One effective approach is to establish regular "listening sessions" where community members can share concerns, propose ideas, and hear updates directly from their leaders. Additionally, introducing transparent platforms such as

"You Said, We Did" boards, either physically in community spaces or digitally on the LCDA's website and social media, can visibly track community input and the administration's corresponding actions.

This not only validates residents' voices but also reinforces a culture of accountability and responsive governance. Over time, such feedback systems can evolve into a key pillar of participatory local democracy, allowing policies and projects to be continuously informed by lived realities on the ground.

The Bottom Line

The true measure of governance lies not in promises made, but in lives transformed. Under the thoughtful and responsive leadership of Hon. Fuad Atanda-Lawal, Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA has redefined what effective governance looks and feels like. It is leadership rooted deeply in empathy, transparency, and a profound respect for the dignity and aspirations of every individual.

From the bustling streets of Obalende to the serene avenues of Ikoyi, the impact of this administration's projects echoes through the daily rhythms of community life. Roads once impassable during rains now support thriving businesses and vibrant neighborhoods.

Families once burdened by healthcare costs now find comfort in accessible, reliable medical services. Children who previously struggled to afford educational necessities now walk proudly to school, equipped and inspired. Market women, artisans, and workers who once faced uncertainty now experience a new sense of economic empowerment and independence.

The 90% satisfaction rating provided by residents in our recent survey is more than just a statistic; it is an outpouring of community gratitude and validation of a vision that places people at the very heart of progress. These figures tell powerful stories of individual triumphs, community cohesion, and an enduring trust in leadership that truly listens, genuinely cares, and consistently delivers.

This is governance with a heartbeat, responsive to the real, lived experiences of residents, attuned to their hopes, attentive to their challenges. The legacy of these years will not just be the projects themselves, but the renewed faith and pride felt deeply across Ikoyi-Obalende. This collective spirit, fostered by compassionate leadership, is perhaps the most profound achievement of all.

As we reflect on this chapter, it is clear that the real story is not just one of infrastructural achievements, but of the renewed dignity, stronger unity, and heightened aspirations within every community member. This chapter closes not with applause, but with quiet affirmation from every street, every household, every individual who has felt the tangible difference:

> "We have been heard. We have been seen. We have been uplifted. And now, together, we move forward.

Key Projects

Probyn Road & Drainage Reconstruction

Location: Probyn Street, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Probyn Street in Ikoyi was one of several critical roads plagued by seasonal flooding and deteriorating surfaces, affecting mobility, safety, and property values. Through this project, the LCDA undertook comprehensive road reconstruction alongside the overhaul of the accompanying drainage systems, ensuring both structural durability and improved water flow.

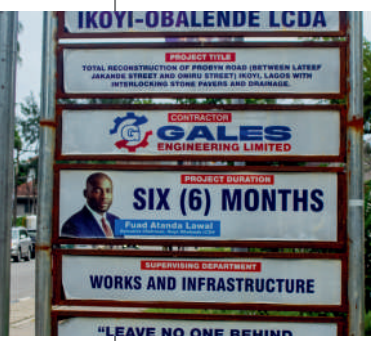

This major infrastructural upgrade aligns with SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by enhancing road safety, climate resilience, and urban functionality. It is a flagship demonstration of how deliberate, long-term investment in public infrastructure directly improves city living.

People-Centered Outcomes

Before the intervention, flooding routinely caused traffic disruption and damage to vehicles. Since reconstruction, residents and businesses on Probyn Street have enjoyed smoother traffic flow, cleaner surroundings, and increased pedestrian safety. A resident shared,

> "Now, rain doesn't mean chaos. The road holds up, and the drains do their job. We finally feel prioritized."

The project reflects a shift from reactive patchwork repairs to forward-thinking, preventative planning, a hallmark of responsible and people-focused governance in Ikoyi-Obalende.

Oluwa Road & Drainage Reconstruction

Location: Oluwa Street, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Oluwa Street had long been burdened with poor drainage and a deteriorating road surface, making transportation challenging during the rainy season. Responding to community concerns, the LCDA carried out a complete reconstruction of the road and its drainage system, delivering smoother surfaces and vastly improved water flow.

This initiative supports SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by reducing flood risks, extending road life, and enhancing local transport infrastructure. It embodies the LCDA's vision of climate-resilient, people-focused urban development.

People-Centered Outcomes

Residents now enjoy easier access, reduced travel delays, and cleaner surroundings. A teacher who commutes through the area shared,

> "Oluwa Street used to flood so badly, it felt like we were boating to school. That's history now."

The project is a clear demonstration of the LCDA's ongoing commitment to ensuring basic infrastructure meets daily needs, especially in high-footfall residential and educational zones.

Keffi Street and Drainage Rehabilitation

Location: Keffi Road, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Keffi Street had become increasingly hazardous due to failing drainage systems and a deteriorating road surface, leading to frequent flooding and transportation delays. In response, the LCDA implemented a full rehabilitation of both the street and drainage infrastructure in a record time of just four working days, restoring functionality and safeguarding the area against erosion and water damage.

The intervention supports SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by modernizing critical urban infrastructure and improving the resilience of public spaces.

People-Centered Outcomes

Residents reported fewer disruptions, easier commutes, and improved street conditions after the repairs. Local drivers and pedestrians alike have benefited from a smoother and safer journey. One commuter remarked,

> "It's no longer the rough ride it used to be. You can feel the difference immediately."

The Keffi Street rehabilitation reaffirms the LCDA's proactive approach to infrastructure maintenance and environmental risk reduction, ensuring reliable access and public satisfaction in key areas of Ikoyi.

Maitama Sule Road Reconstruction

Location: Maitama Sule, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Maitama Sule, a key residential street in Ikoyi, faced long-standing issues with road quality and drainage that limited safe mobility and increased wear on vehicles. The Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA responded with a full-scale road and drainage reconstruction project, rebuilding road surfaces and fortifying stormwater channels to enhance resilience and access.

The project advances SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by promoting dependable transport infrastructure and addressing climate-related vulnerabilities in an evolving urban neighborhood.

People-Centered Outcomes

Residents now report quicker commutes, less flooding, and improved aesthetics throughout the area. For many families, the road's upgrade brought peace of mind, especially during the rainy season. A resident commented,

> "Oluwa Street used to flood so badly, it felt like we were boating to school. That's history now."

The Maitama Sule reconstruction stands as a testament to the LCDA's commitment to inclusive development, bringing timely solutions to both prominent and previously overlooked communities within the LCDA.

Bayo Kuku Road & Drainage Reconstruction

Location: Bayo Kuku Street, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Bayo Kuku Street, a vital access route in Ikoyi, had suffered from deteriorating road conditions and inadequate drainage that caused frequent flooding and safety hazards. The LCDA implemented a comprehensive road and drainage reconstruction, delivering a smoother, more resilient transport corridor with reinforced flood defenses.

This project aligns with SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by ensuring road longevity, increasing mobility, and supporting a safe urban environment for residents, commuters, and local businesses alike.

People-Centered Outcomes

Residents have celebrated the transformation, especially in terms of reduced flooding, enhanced mobility, and improved property access. A trader near the street noted,

> "Business used to slow down every time it rained. Now, customers don't turn back, they drive straight in."

The success of this project is another example of the LCDA's proactive and community-responsive infrastructure agenda, where local feedback and climate realities guide impactful investment.

Moshalashi Road & Drainage Reconstruction

Location: Moshalashi Street, Obalende

Project Summary

Moshalashi Street in Obalende had long been a site of persistent flooding and surface degradation, creating hazardous conditions for both residents and businesses. In response, the LCDA undertook a dual intervention to reconstruct the road and reinforce the drainage systems, ensuring long-term functionality and safety.

The project aligns with SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by improving critical infrastructure, reducing flood risk, and enhancing mobility in a densely populated urban area.

People-Centered Outcomes

The project has been met with widespread appreciation from Obalende residents, who now enjoy smoother road access, cleaner surroundings, and reduced health hazards. A local vendor commented,

> "Before the repairs, my shop would flood after every rainfall. Now, I stay open all day, even during the rainy season."

This reconstruction is a powerful example of how targeted infrastructure development in high-traffic areas can produce immediate and lasting improvements in daily urban life.

Royal Palm Drive Road Reconstruction

Location: Royal Palm Drive, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Royal Palm Drive, a key access route within the Osborne Foreshore Estate, had long suffered from inadequate road grading and recurrent flooding due to low drainage walls. The LCDA's reconstruction effort involved rebuilding the road surface and heightening the drainage walls, transforming it into a safer and more resilient artery for residents and visitors alike.

The project supports SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by addressing structural vulnerability, improving flood resilience, and promoting ease of access within a densely residential community. It reflects the LCDA's commitment to enhancing the quality of life through reliable infrastructure.

People-Centered Outcomes

Residents have praised the project for reducing flooding, protecting vehicles, and restoring the dignity of their living environment. One resident remarked,

> "Before, a heavy rain meant you were stuck for hours. Now the road is strong, and the drainage actually works."

This intervention has also elevated property values, improved emergency service access, and reinforced confidence in the LCDA's ability to deliver functional and lasting upgrades. It is a showcase of responsive, climate-smart governance in action.

Council HQ Rehabilitation

Location: 15 Cardinal Olubunmi Okogie Road, Ikoyi

Project Summary

The Ikoyi-Obalende Local Council Development Area (LCDA) Headquarters, a central hub for governance and civic engagement, underwent a strategic rehabilitation to improve both functionality and public accessibility. Years of wear had made the facility less efficient for both staff and residents seeking public services. This project modernized the structure, improved internal spaces, and reinforced the building's infrastructure.

This upgrade supports SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by ensuring that public institutions are inclusive, safe, and resilient. It also underscores the LCDA's commitment to maintaining a professional and welcoming environment for all residents.

People-Centered Outcomes

The newly renovated council headquarters is now a more efficient, transparent, and people-friendly space. Residents experience shorter wait times, improved navigation with the aid of a newly installed elevator, and better service delivery. One visitor noted,

> "It feels like a real civic center now, not just a building, but a place where things get done with respect."

The rehabilitation serves as a symbol of administrative renewal and reflects a governance philosophy that values both people and the spaces that serve them.

iREP Construction and Commissioning

Location: Ijeh, Ikoyi-Obalende

Project Summary

The iREP (Ikoyi-Obalende Recreation and Empowerment Park) project was designed to transform a previously underutilized space into a vibrant, multifunctional public facility. With modern landscaping, lighting, recreational equipment, and youth-oriented spaces, the LCDA constructed and commissioned this landmark development to serve as both a community hub and empowerment zone.

This initiative supports SDG 3 (Good Health and Well-being) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by promoting physical activity, wellness, and inclusive access to green urban spaces. It also intersects with SDG 10 (Reduced Inequalities) by providing a safe and open space for all demographics.

People-Centered Outcomes

Since its launch, the iREP facility has hosted fitness classes, youth programs, and community gatherings, strengthening local cohesion, mental health, and social empowerment. One youth participant shared,

> "Before this, we had nowhere to hang out or play that was clean and safe. Now it's ours."

The iREP Park is a shining example of how infrastructure can be recreational, inclusive, and empowering, helping to build a healthier, stronger, and more united Ikoyi-Obalende.

Replacement of Stolen Manhole Covers with Concrete Slabs

Location: Turnbull Road, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Turnbull Road, a key route in Ikoyi, had become dangerous due to the frequent theft of metal manhole covers. Open drains left behind posed daily risks to pedestrians and drivers alike. In response, the Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA replaced them with custom-fabricated concrete slabs, durable, theft-resistant, and community-approved.

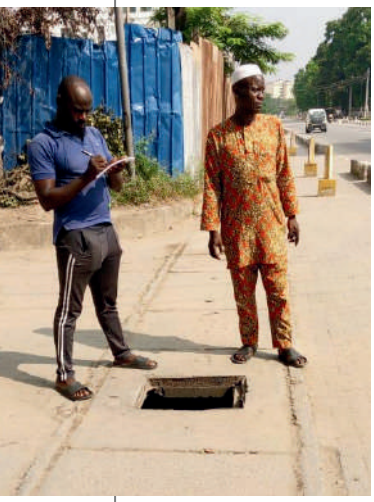

This intervention addressed SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation & Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities & Communities) by improving public safety, reducing flooding risk, and enabling better mobility. Local traders and residents have noted improvements in traffic flow and overall confidence in public infrastructure.

People-Centered Outcomes

Local feedback suggests a significant improvement in community confidence. As one resident noted during the 2025 impact survey;

> "I used to avoid walking down this road at night. Now, I can move freely without fear of falling. That kind of change makes a difference."

This project underscores the LCDA's commitment to practical, preventative infrastructure, and its ability to turn community feedback into lasting solutions.

Drainage Clearing on Awolowo Road

Location: Awolowo Road, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Awolowo Road, one of the busiest corridors in Ikoyi, had long been affected by drainage blockages that contributed to flooding, stagnant water, and related health hazards. The Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA's intervention to clear and restore the drainage systems along this major artery was timely and transformative. By removing debris and silt, the project improved water flow, reduced environmental risks, and restored confidence in the area's urban infrastructure.

This project directly supports SDG 6 (Clean Water and Sanitation) and SDG 13 (Climate Action) by improving stormwater management, reducing mosquito breeding grounds, and protecting residents from waterborne diseases during rainy seasons.

People-Centered Outcomes

Local traders and commuters noted that the project had an immediate impact on daily life. Previously prone to flash floods and foul odors, the road is now cleaner, safer, and more navigable. One resident remarked,

> "Before the drainage clearing, the whole area would smell and flood. Now, the difference is night and day—our shops stay open, and people no longer avoid walking this way."

Desilting of Drainages – Obalende Road Corridor

Location: Obalende Road Corridor

Project Summary

The desilting of drainages along the Obalende Road corridor addressed one of the most pressing environmental concerns in the densely populated heart of Ikoyi-Obalende. Years of accumulated debris and silt had impaired water flow, resulting in frequent flooding, unsanitary conditions, and heightened health risks during the rainy season. The LCDA's focused intervention involved clearing multiple drainage points to restore proper flow and reduce environmental health threats.

Beyond flood prevention, this project reflects the LCDA's commitment to equity in urban services, ensuring that even densely populated corridors receive the attention needed for safe, livable environments.

People-Centered Outcomes

Residents reported a visible difference within days of the cleanup. Drainage systems that once overflowed now function reliably during storms. Local food vendors and street traders, previously forced to halt operations during heavy rain, can now operate without disruption. One trader noted,

> "This simple project made a huge difference. We no longer fear the rains like before."

Hope Primary School Cafeteria Reconstruction

Location: Hope Primary School, Ikoyi

Project Summary

At Hope Primary School in Ikoyi, the reconstruction of the school cafeteria marked a meaningful step toward enhancing the learning environment. Originally dilapidated and poorly ventilated, the previous structure lacked the basic infrastructure to serve pupils safely and efficiently. With the newly reconstructed cafeteria, students now have access to a clean, safe, and dignified dining space that promotes health and nourishment.

This project aligns with SDG 4 (Quality Education) and SDG 3 (Good Health and Well-being) by recognizing the critical connection between adequate school infrastructure and student success. A functional cafeteria not only supports better nutrition but also contributes to improved concentration, attendance, and overall academic performance.

People-Centered Outcomes

Teachers and parents alike have observed a notable shift in pupil morale and enthusiasm. The cafeteria is now a welcoming space where students can eat, relax, and socialise a far cry from the neglected area it once was.

For many families, particularly those from low-income backgrounds, this reconstruction brought reassurance that their children are learning in a safe and nurturing environment. The project underscores the LCDA's commitment to holistic education reform, where learning is supported not just in classrooms, but through every facility that contributes to a child's development.

Senator Oluremi Tinubu Primary Health Centre Reconstruction

Location: Ijeh, Dolphin Estate

Project Summary

The reconstruction of the Senator Oluremi Tinubu Primary Health Centre in Ijeh, Dolphin Estate represents a landmark investment in healthcare accessibility for the Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA. The original structure, limited in capacity and functionality, was replaced with a modern 30-bed medical facility equipped to serve the needs of residents with dignity, professionalism, and efficiency.

This comprehensive healthcare upgrade aligns with SDG 3 (Good Health and Well-being) by improving access to essential medical services, including outpatient care, diagnostics, maternity, and emergency response. The project reaffirms the LCDA's belief that healthcare is a right, not a privilege.

People-Centered Outcomes

Residents and healthcare workers have described the new facility as a game changer. With the inclusion of diagnostic equipment like X-ray machines, improved staffing, and access to affordable medication, the health centre now serves a broader and more vulnerable segment of the population. As one resident shared,

> "The free X-ray service saved me when I fractured my hand—I didn't pay a kobo."

The reconstruction has also had ripple effects: reduced patient overflow at private clinics, shorter wait times, and a revived trust in public healthcare. By placing a functional, welcoming medical facility in the heart of the community, this project reflects the LCDA's enduring commitment to health equity and social welfare.

Commissioning of Senator Oluremi Tinubu Primary Health Centre

Location: Ijeh, Dolphin Estate

Project Summary

The Senator Oluremi Tinubu Primary Health Centre (PHC), newly constructed and commissioned in 2025, marks a historic milestone in the LCDA's commitment to accessible and dignified healthcare. Designed to provide inclusive, 24/7 community health services, the PHC is a 30-bed facility equipped with diagnostic tools, a maternal and child care unit, emergency response equipment, and solar-powered energy systems.

Beyond physical infrastructure, the facility stands as a beacon of equity and care, offering services that bridge health gaps and reach underserved populations, especially women, children, the elderly, and people with disabilities.

People-Centered Outcomes

The commissioning of the Senator Oluremi Tinubu Primary Health Centre has brought healthcare closer to home for thousands of residents, especially women, children, and the elderly who previously lacked easy access to essential services. With a 30-bed capacity, emergency care, and maternal health support, the facility now provides dignified, affordable, and continuous care in a clean, well-equipped environment.

Residents no longer travel long distances for treatment, and preventive services, such as screenings for malaria, hypertension, and diabetes, are now part of everyday care.

The PHC has also created jobs, boosted community confidence in public healthcare, and fostered a deeper sense of security and well-being among underserved populations.

Increase of Doctors' Salary by 100%

Location: General (across all PHC facilities in Ikoyi-Obalende)

Project Summary

In a bold step to enhance healthcare delivery and retain skilled professionals, the Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA doubled the salaries of its medical doctors across all public healthcare centers. This 100% salary increase was designed to acknowledge the crucial role of healthcare providers while improving morale, productivity, and service quality.

This investment in people, not just buildings or equipment, has had a ripple effect on service delivery. Patients now encounter more attentive medical professionals, shorter wait times, and overall improved experiences at healthcare centers. It is a quiet but powerful intervention that strengthens the foundation of community health from within.

People-Centered Outcomes

The salary adjustment led to increased retention, reduced absenteeism, and stronger staff commitment across PHC centers. With better working conditions, doctors are now more motivated to provide timely and empathetic care. One staff member shared,

> "We feel seen and valued. It's more than the money, it's the respect behind the gesture."

SCAN ME

Renewed Hope Outreach

Location: Various Communities, Ikoyi–Obalende

Project Summary

Renewed Hope Outreach was launched as a rapid-response welfare intervention designed to cushion the effects of economic hardship, especially following the removal of fuel subsidies. Rooted in empathy and urgency, the program delivered direct food support, essential household items, and medical outreach to some of the LCDA's most vulnerable residents, particularly the elderly, single parents, and persons with disabilities.

Taking a decentralized approach, the outreach was held across multiple wards and communities, ensuring accessibility and fairness. Relief items were distributed alongside free basic health screenings, counseling services, and support referrals.

It wasn't just an act of assistance; it was a message: no one is forgotten.

People-Centered Outcomes

- Thousands of families supported through food distribution and household relief.
- Mobile health screenings for malaria, blood pressure, and glucose levels.
- Reached elderly, widows, and low-income households in underserved areas.
- Reinforced community trust and inclusion during a period of national economic stress.

The Renewed Hope Outreach embodied the LCDA's belief that leadership must always be responsive and humane. In times of difficulty, it reaffirmed that governance in Ikoyi-Obalende is driven by compassion, not convenience.

Provision of Water Pump to Dolphin Estate

Location: Dolphin Estate, Ikoyi-Obalende, Lagos

Project Summary

The Dolphin Estate, a key residential area within Ikoyi-Obalende, experiences severe waterlogging and flooding during periods of heavy rainfall, causing significant disruption to daily life and property damage. To address this challenge, the Local Council Development Authority (LCDA) provided a high-capacity water pump to the High-Rise Residents Association Chairman. This initiative ensures that water can be efficiently pumped out of the estate, reducing the risk of prolonged flooding and improving living conditions for all residents.

This project highlights the council's proactive approach to flood mitigation and community resilience, offering a quick-response solution during the rainy season while longer-term drainage improvements are planned.

People-Centered Outcomes

The water pump provision has brought immediate relief to residents, ensuring that floodwaters are removed faster and communal spaces remain safe and accessible. It minimizes property damage, prevents health risks associated with stagnant water, and enhances the community's confidence in the council's ability to respond to urgent infrastructure challenges.

By working closely with the Residents Association, the LCDA demonstrates its commitment to collaborative problem-solving and maintaining a safe, livable environment.

Clearing of Shanties and Illegal Mechanic Parks

Various Locations across Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA

Project Summary

To promote cleaner, safer, and more organized urban spaces, the Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA, in collaboration with the Lagos State Ministry of Environment and the Lagos State Environmental Sanitation/KAI (Kick Against Indiscipline), executed a large-scale operation to clear illegal mechanic parks and informal shanty settlements across multiple neighborhoods. These encroachments had contributed to sanitation issues, visual pollution, and unregulated land use, often obstructing drainage systems, limiting road access, and posing security and environmental hazards.

This strategic effort supports sustainable urban planning and aligns with global best practices by improving waste management, restoring public access to communal spaces, and enhancing the visual and functional appeal of the LCDA.

People-Centered Outcomes

Residents immediately noticed improvements in neighborhood cleanliness, access, and safety. The removal of abandoned vehicles and makeshift workshops reduced fire risks, eliminated criminal hideouts, and curtailed environmental degradation. A community elder shared,

> “Now that those structures are gone, we can walk freely and breathe easier. It no longer looks like a forgotten place.”

This initiative reaffirms the LCDA's commitment to environmental stewardship, community hygiene, and creating safe, livable spaces for all residents.

Para Football Skate Soccer Championship

Location: Ikoyi-Obalende LGA

Project Summary

The Para Football Skate Soccer Championship was more than a sporting event, it was a bold statement of inclusion, visibility, and empowerment for persons with disabilities (PWDs). Organized by the LCDA, this championship brought together para-athletes from across Lagos and beyond to compete in an exhilarating display of strength, skill, and resilience.

This initiative aligns with SDG 3 (Good Health and Well-being) and SDG 10 (Reduced Inequalities) by promoting inclusive recreational spaces and supporting the rights and visibility of people living with disabilities. It is part of the LCDA's broader mission to amplify underrepresented voices through platforms of empowerment.

People-Centered Outcomes

Participants shared feelings of pride, joy, and confidence. The event offered not just competition, but a celebration of talent and perseverance. One athlete reflected,

> "This was the first time I played in front of such a big crowd. I felt seen, not as disabled, but as powerful."

The event also mobilized community spectators, volunteers, and youth, fostering intergroup solidarity and creating powerful memories of what inclusion can look like in action. The championship continues to be remembered as a milestone of dignity and celebration within the LCDA's development journey.

Autism Awareness in Collaboration with Cradle Lounge

Location: General (community-wide initiative)

Project Summary

Understanding that health includes mental and neurodevelopmental wellness, the Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA partnered with Cradle Lounge to champion Autism Awareness across the community. Through events, workshops, and caregiver sessions, this initiative aimed to reduce stigma, promote early diagnosis, and improve support systems for children living with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD).

This initiative aligns with SDG 3 (Good Health and Well-being) and SDG 17 (Partnerships for the Goals) by building inclusive, knowledge-based health engagement through strategic collaboration. It represents a progressive expansion of the LCDA's healthcare agenda, one that includes behavioral health as a key component of community wellness.

People-Centered Outcomes

Parents of children on the spectrum reported greater confidence in navigating care options and a deeper sense of community support. Educators and healthcare workers also gained tools to better identify and support ASD cases. A mother who attended one of the awareness sessions shared,

> "I used to feel alone. Now I understand what my child needs, and I know I'm not the only one."

The initiative reflects a compassionate, inclusive model of public health, one that listens, educates, and builds capacity across institutions and families. It is a reminder that small steps in awareness can lead to giant leaps in dignity and understanding.

Grillo Street Rehabilitation

Location: Grillo Street, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Grillo Street, located in a central part of Ikoyi, faced challenges related to pavement deterioration and drainage inefficiency, leading to water pooling and mobility concerns during the rainy season. The LCDA responded with a targeted rehabilitation project to restore the road surface and ensure effective water flow, bringing the area up to modern urban standards.

This project contributes to SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by addressing essential infrastructure needs and supporting a safer, more accessible community environment.

People-Centered Outcomes

The rehabilitation has enhanced commuter safety, commercial activity, and residential convenience in the area. Local feedback emphasized how the upgrade made the neighborhood feel more connected and navigable.

> "Grillo was always a hassle after rainfall. Now we can walk, drive, and move without worry," shared a resident.

This intervention reinforces the LCDA's mission to deliver neighborhood-level improvements that directly elevate quality of life for residents and road users.

Oroke Drive Rehabilitation

Location: Oroke Street, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Oroke Drive, located in a residential section of Ikoyi, was plagued by uneven surfaces, potholes, and poor drainage, posing daily challenges for motorists and pedestrians alike. Responding to local feedback, the LCDA launched a targeted rehabilitation initiative to repair and resurface the road, restoring it to a safe and navigable condition.

People-Centered Outcomes

The restored Oroke Drive has significantly improved mobility, cleanliness, and quality of life for residents. Local testimonials praised the LCDA's prompt action and attention to resident complaints.

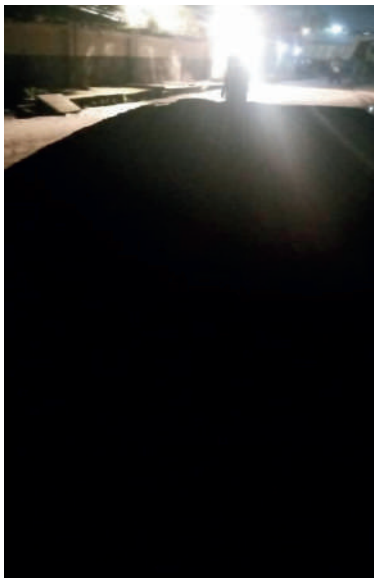

> "It was a road we all avoided; now it's smooth and safe. Everyone notices the difference," said one community member.

This rehabilitation represents the LCDA's commitment to neighborhood-scale development, ensuring that no street is too small to benefit from quality public infrastructure.

Empower Her Fortune 1.0

Location: Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA Headquarters

Project Summary

Launched in the early phase of the administration, Empower Her Fortune 1.0 was a pioneering economic empowerment program aimed at lifting underserved women out of poverty through direct financial support and access to business resources. With thousands of applications received, the program provided cash disbursements and business equipment to over 1,500 women, including traders, artisans, and single mothers across Ikoyi and Obalende.

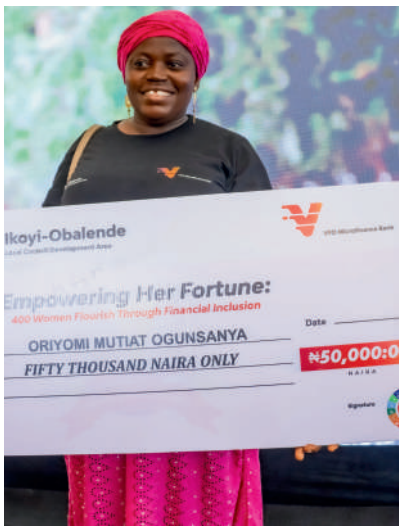

This intervention was more than a financial grant, it was a lifeline for many women striving to build sustainable livelihoods and break the cycle of generational hardship. Empower Her Fortune 1.0 served as the foundation for what would later become a wider empowerment framework that included training, digital access, and formal registration pathways for small businesses.

People-Centered Outcomes

This program laid the groundwork for Empower Her Fortune 2.0, which built upon its success with digitized disbursements and private sector collaboration. It remains a defining example of the LCDA's belief in empowerment with dignity, that when you uplift a woman, you uplift a family, a business, and a community.

Empower Her Fortune 2.0

Location: Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA Headquarters

Project Summary

Building on the success of Empower Her Fortune 1.0, Empower Her Fortune 2.0 (EHF 2.0) expanded its reach and impact by providing direct grants to businesswomen within the LCDA. This phase not only focused on supporting women-owned small businesses with essential capital but also introduced a partnership with SMEDAN (Small and Medium Enterprises Development Agency of Nigeria).

Through this collaboration, SMEDAN awarded additional grants to women who had successfully scaled their businesses after participating in EHF 1.0. This two-tiered approach ensured that both new entrepreneurs and growing business owners received the financial support and recognition needed to advance their ventures.

People-Centered Outcomes

Many of the grant recipients were women operating from home, markets, or roadside kiosks, those often overlooked by formal credit systems. One recipient shared,

> "This grant gave me a fresh start. I finally bought the tools I needed to expand my tailoring business."

EHF 2.0 continues to stand as a testament to the LCDA's commitment to women's economic empowerment, driving not just individual success stories but lasting economic transformation in Ikoyi-Obalende.

Acacia Road Reconstruction

Location: Osborne Foreshore II Estate, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Acacia Road, located within the prestigious Osborne Foreshore II Estate, had deteriorated over time due to erosion, waterlogging, and inadequate drainage. In response, the LCDA undertook a targeted reconstruction effort involving road resurfacing with interlocking stones and the heightening of drainage walls, a dual solution aimed at enhancing durability and mitigating seasonal flooding.

This project supports SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by strengthening transport infrastructure, enhancing stormwater management, and improving safety and accessibility in a key residential corridor.

People-Centered Outcomes

For estate residents, the reconstruction of Acacia Road brought immediate relief from years of inconvenience and structural vulnerability. One resident shared,

> "We used to dread the rainy season. Now, we drive and walk with confidence, and our children can play outside again."

The project also signalled the LCDA's dedication to maintaining high standards in both older and newer neighbourhoods. It reflects a community-first approach to development, where every intervention enhances both functionality and dignity for residents.

Adeyemi Lawson Road Rehabilitation

Location: Adeyemi Lawson Street, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Adeyemi Lawson Street, a prominent access route in Ikoyi, had fallen into disrepair with uneven road surfaces, drainage issues, and safety concerns for both motorists and pedestrians. The LCDA carried out a comprehensive rehabilitation of the road, restoring smooth vehicular passage and improving the area's functionality and appearance.

People-Centered Outcomes

Residents and commuters now benefit from smoother rides, reduced traffic disruptions, and enhanced neighborhood aesthetics. The road's upgrade also supports local commerce and improves connectivity between adjoining streets. A shop owner shared,

> "Business picked up immediately after the road was fixed. It made us more visible and accessible."

The Adeyemi Lawson rehabilitation is another example of the LCDA's focus on quality-of-life improvements through responsive infrastructure delivery.

Rehabilitation of Femi Pedro Street

Location: Park View, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Femi Pedro Street in Park View, Ikoyi, had suffered from surface erosion and poor drainage, creating unsafe conditions for both residents and motorists. The LCDA's intervention included sectional repairs and road stabilization, addressing structural issues while improving the overall quality of this key residential road.

This initiative aligns with SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by ensuring consistent infrastructure upgrades, promoting safer roads, and reducing the environmental impact of poor drainage systems.

People-Centered Outcomes

Since completion, residents report less road flooding, safer walking paths, and increased property accessibility. One homeowner shared,

> "It's a relief to see work done on our street, our children can now play and ride bikes safely outside."

The Femi Pedro Street rehabilitation underscores the LCDA's commitment to sustained infrastructure management, particularly in high-value neighborhoods that serve both local and transit needs.

Drainage Desilting and Rehabilitation – Alimosho Street

Location: Dolphin Estate, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Alimosho Street in Dolphin Estate, Ikoyi, faced recurring drainage problems that contributed to neighborhood flooding, blocked water flow, and deteriorating road conditions. In response, the LCDA initiated a dual intervention: desilting blocked drains and rehabilitating the damaged drainage infrastructure to restore safe, consistent water management for the community.

This effort directly contributes to SDG 6 (Clean Water and Sanitation) and SDG 13 (Climate Action), ensuring the environment remains resilient and sanitary.

The LCDA's investment in Dolphin Estate through this project highlights a forward-looking approach to climate resilience, while addressing everyday needs with precision and care.

People-Centered Outcomes

The rehabilitation work was met with visible community relief. Residents and shop owners who once navigated flooded walkways and battled mosquito infestations now enjoy cleaner streets, safer movement, and reduced health risks. A youth in the area shared,

> "Before the work, our street would flood and smell. Now everything is dry, even after rain."

Extension of Road & Heightening of Drainage Walls

Royal Palm Drive, Osborne Foreshore II, Ikoyi

Project Summary

As part of the LCDA's ongoing environmental resilience agenda, this project focused on the extension of road networks and the elevation of drainage walls at Royal Palm Drive, Osborne Foreshore II. This area, prone to seasonal flooding due to rising water levels and backflow, required an urgent infrastructural response to safeguard both lives and property.

By increasing the drainage wall height and improving flow design, the intervention helped contain stormwater, minimize overflow, and prolong road life. This project builds upon earlier general de-silting efforts and reflects the LCDA's proactive commitment to climate adaptation in high-value residential corridors.

People-Centered Outcomes

The cleared drainages significantly improved environmental hygiene, mosquito control, and flood resilience, especially during the rainy season. Residents in both high- and low-density areas experienced a noticeable drop in standing water and related health risks.

> "The difference is night and day. Before, we braced for floods; now, water drains quickly," said a resident from central Ikoyi.

These operations reflect the LCDA's ongoing dedication to sustainable urban maintenance and public health protection, with real impact on everyday comfort and safety.

Rumens Road, Ikoyi Rehabilitation

Location: Rumens Road, Ikoyi

Project Summary

Rumens Road in Ikoyi, a frequently used connector within the district, experienced progressive surface damage and inadequate drainage that led to flooding and structural decay. In response, the LCDA initiated a focused rehabilitation effort, resurfacing damaged sections and improving water flow systems, thereby restoring the street's function and safety.

This project supports SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure) and SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) by preserving vital infrastructure and promoting resilience in urban planning.

People-Centered Outcomes

Residents and road users reported fewer potholes, reduced vehicle wear, and better access during rainy periods. The improved road condition has also positively impacted surrounding businesses and residential properties.

> "You can feel the change right away, smoother driving, less water, and no more roadside flooding," a local driver commented.

The Rumens Road rehabilitation reflects the LCDA's commitment to maintaining infrastructure performance through timely, targeted interventions that keep daily life running smoothly.

Commissioning of Remodelled Secretariat & Network of Roads

Location: Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA Headquarters & Key Connecting Roads

Project Summary

The commissioning of the remodelled Council Secretariat marks a transformative milestone in the LCDA's commitment to efficient governance and quality service delivery. The Secretariat was redesigned and modernized to create a more functional, citizen-friendly environment, ensuring smoother administrative processes and better access for residents.

Complementing this was the rehabilitation and commissioning of a network of strategic roads surrounding the Secretariat and adjoining neighborhoods. These road upgrades, including new drainage systems and improved street lighting, enhance mobility and accessibility, while reducing traffic congestion and flood risks in key administrative zones.

People-Centered Outcomes

The remodeled Secretariat provides a welcoming, organized, and transparent space for residents seeking services, creating a stronger sense of trust and community engagement. Meanwhile, the improved road network has boosted local business activities, reduced travel delays, and increased overall safety for pedestrians and drivers alike.

Residents have noted that the projects not only enhance the aesthetic appeal of the LCDA but also signal a renewed commitment to efficient governance and inclusive urban development.

> The Secretariat now feels like a modern hub of governance, and the road network around it has changed the entire experience of visiting the council.

Impact Metrics

QUANTIFYING OUR SHARED PROGRESS

Measuring the true impact of governance goes beyond simply counting completed projects, it's about understanding how deeply these projects have improved lives, enhanced livelihoods, and elevated our community's overall well-being. Below are essential figures and outcomes capturing the substantial progress achieved in Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA from 2017 through 2025.

PROJECT OVERVIEW (2017–2025)

Infrastructure: Over 60 road and drainage projects completed or initiated, significantly improving connectivity, safety, and local economies.

Environment: More than 10 major environmental initiatives, including waste management, drainage clearing, boreholes, and urban green spaces.

Healthcare: Implementation of over 15 healthcare-focused projects, including Primary Health Centre reconstructions, healthcare upgrades, diagnostic equipment, ambulance services, and community wellness programs.

Empowerment: Over 9,500 individuals supported through vocational training, business grants, entrepreneurship initiatives, and community development programs.

Education: More than 8,000 students directly supported with educational materials, renovated school facilities, digital learning equipment, and scholarship opportunities.

Roads Rehabilitated: A Legacy of Connection and Mobility

From Streets to Solutions – Redefining Access in Ikoyi-Obalende

Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA is home to 71 officially named roads, including federal highways, state-managed roads, and estate roads. While the maintenance of some of these roads falls under federal or state government jurisdiction, the LCDA has taken responsibility for the rehabilitation of 42 key roads, a proactive step to bridge the infrastructure gap and improve daily life for residents.

Comparative Overview

- Federal Roads: Managed by federal authorities, these major arteries undergo periodic upgrades but often experience delays in their maintenance schedules.
- State Roads: Overseen by Lagos State, these roads connect major business districts and often receive large-scale urban planning interventions.
- Estate Roads: Privately maintained by residential estates, they are typically accessible only to estate residents.
- LCDA-Rehabilitated Roads (42 Roads): These include community and access roads where intervention directly impacts the "average man" residents, shop owners, artisans, school children, and local businesses.

Impact on Daily Life

The LCDA's work on 42 roads, including Bayo Kuku Road, Probyn Road, Keffi Street, and Obalende Road, has directly improved mobility, reduced travel time, and created safer conditions for both drivers and pedestrians.

59% of roads rehabilitated 2017 - 2025

Residents have reported fewer vehicle repairs due to improved road quality, while traders and business owners along these rehabilitated roads have experienced higher foot traffic and increased sales. For school children and elderly residents, the smoother, safer roads mean easier access to schools, healthcare facilities, and markets.

> These roads don't just connect places—they connect lives. For every mother walking her child to school or trader delivering goods to market, better roads mean safety, savings, and opportunity.

PURPOSE PEOPLE PROGRESS

Our Ikoyi-Obalende

Ikoyi-Obalende is a unique enclave within Lagos, seamlessly merging its historic legacy with dynamic modern life. Landmarks like the colonial-era settlement of Obalende, the serene Ikoyi Cemetery, the distinguished Ikoyi Club 1938, and the culturally vibrant Bogobiri House highlight its rich past and contemporary appeal.

Our community, enriched by institutions like St. Gregory's College, Holy Child College, and diverse religious centers, epitomizes Nigeria's unity in diversity. The lively Obalende Market captures the area's resilient spirit and vibrant culture.

Strategic developments such as the Lekki-Ikoyi Link Bridge, Falomo Towers Redevelopment, Banana Island, and Alfred Rewane Road's green spaces reflect purposeful urban progress. Additionally, the Senator Oluremi Tinubu Primary Healthcare Centre represents our commitment to improved community well-being.

Ikoyi-Obalende remains a dynamic community defined by its heritage, vibrant residents, and continual advancement toward an inspiring future.

Purpose:

Heritage and Identity

Ikoyi-Obalende is steeped in a rich tapestry of history, culture, and enduring values, reflected vividly through its cherished landmarks and vibrant neighborhoods.

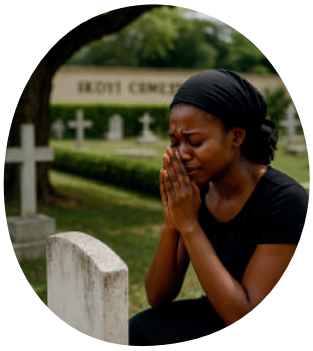

The name Obalende itself echoes with historical significance, derived from the Yoruba phrase “Ibi ti Oba le wa de”, meaning "where the king chased us to." This evocative origin traces back to the 19th-century resettlement area for colonial troops and displaced individuals from central Lagos, marking it as a cornerstone of resilience and cultural amalgamation.

Highlights

PURPOSE: HERITAGE AND IDENTITY

Prominently anchoring the community's cultural identity is the historic Ikoyi Club 1938, a premier social and sports establishment originally serving expatriates during colonial times. Today, its lush grounds and inclusive membership continue to celebrate both elite traditions and the modern, diverse spirit of Ikoyi-Obalende, making it an enduring symbol of community integration and social vitality.

The tranquil yet historically profound Ikoyi Cemetery offers a reflective space, preserving the memory of Nigeria's colonial and post-colonial narratives. This cemetery serves as a poignant reminder of the community's enduring respect for its historical roots, connecting residents through remembrance and reverence.

Dodan Barracks underscores Ikoyi's pivotal role in Nigeria's national history, once serving as the residence and command center for several Heads of State during critical chapters of governance and political evolution. Its storied past embodies the community's longstanding purpose as a center of national decision-making and leadership.

Further enriching Ikoyi-Obalende's cultural landscape, Bogobiri House thrives as a dynamic venue where traditional expressions harmonize with contemporary creativity. Through live music, vibrant art exhibitions, and cultural events, Bogobiri continually reaffirms the community's artistic soul and commitment to preserving cultural heritage while embracing innovative artistic endeavors.

"Ikoyi-Obalende's strength has always come from its story is one of resilience, unity, and cultural richness. As we build forward, we do so with deep respect for our past and an unwavering belief in the future our people deserve."

People:

Community and Demographics

At the heart of Ikoyi-Obalende is a people-centered community whose strength lies in its diversity, tolerance, and resilience. This locality is a living mosaic of ethnic, cultural, and religious expressions that not only coexist but also collaborate to form a vibrant, unified social fabric.

Highlights

PEOPLE: COMMUNITY AND DEMOGRAPHICS

One of the most remarkable features of the area is the peaceful coexistence of religious institutions. Just blocks apart stand the Catholic Church of the Assumption in Falomo and the Central Mosque at Obalende, landmarks that embody the interfaith harmony and mutual respect that define the spirit of Ikoyi-Obalende. These institutions are not just places of worship, but also engines of social welfare, education, and community support.

This foundation of unity is reinforced by institutions of learning that have shaped generations. St. Gregory's College (founded in 1928) and Holy Child College (founded in 1945) are among Nigeria's most historic schools. Their halls have nurtured thinkers, leaders, and visionaries, offering not only academic instruction but also values that reflect the community's deep investment in personal development and youth empowerment.

The people of Ikoyi-Obalende reflect a legacy of multicultural integration. From the Aguda (Brazilian returnees) and Saro (Sierra Leonean settlers) who arrived in the late 19th century to the various indigenous and migrant groups, Yoruba, Hausa, Igbo, and more, the area has welcomed all. This diversity has enriched the community's cultural expressions, visible in its music, cuisine, architecture, and daily life.

One of the most dynamic spaces showcasing this vibrant identity is the Obalende Market. From sunrise to nightfall, the market pulses with energy. Traders, artisans, commuters, and families converge here, not just to buy and sell, but to connect. The famed "Suya Junction" at night is a cultural experience in itself, where food, conversation, and community converge under the Lagos skyline.

Ikoyi-Obalende's people are its greatest asset. They are entrepreneurs, educators, civil servants, artists, religious leaders, and everyday citizens who together create a community defined by unity in diversity, continuity through education, and connection through shared spaces.

Progress:

Development and Transformation

Ikoyi-Obalende's evolution is most visible in its physical transformation, a landscape that has steadily modernized while striving to preserve its character. From ambitious infrastructure to sustainable urban design and modern health facilities, the district continues to redefine what progress means for a diverse, upward-moving community.

Highlights

PROGRESS: DEVELOPMENT AND TRANSFORMATION

A striking emblem of this growth is the Lekki-Ikoyi Link Bridge. Opened in 2013, the bridge's cable-stayed architecture and seamless connectivity between Ikoyi and Lekki mark a turning point in urban mobility. Beyond decongesting traffic, it has inspired a new wave of residential and commercial development, cementing its role as both a transit solution and a city landmark.

In the heart of Ikoyi, the Falomo Towers Redevelopment project breathes new life into an iconic urban site. What was once a dated shopping plaza is being reimagined as a mixed-use high-rise complex, signaling confidence in the local economy and showcasing a partnership-driven approach to revitalization. This ongoing project represents a bold commitment to modernize without displacement.

Banana Island, an exclusive planned community developed on reclaimed land, stands as another powerful symbol of transformation. With its luxurious estates, secure infrastructure, and pristine parks, the island exemplifies intentional urban planning and economic aspiration. It illustrates how thoughtful design can turn dormant waterfronts into thriving residential hubs.

But perhaps the most telling example of inclusive development is the new 30-bed Primary Healthcare Centre named after Senator Oluremi Tinubu, launched in 2025. This facility brings essential medical services closer to residents, reflecting an understanding that true progress is measured not only in structures but in well-being and equity.

"The story of Ikoyi-Obalende is one of bold steps and quiet transformations, of roads rebuilt, lives uplifted, and communities reconnected. Our progress is not just in projects completed, but in the trust we've earned and the futures we've helped shape."

Looking Forward

CONTINUITY AND COLLABORATION

As we close this significant chapter in Ikoyi-Obalende's ongoing narrative of growth and transformation, our gaze is firmly set on a future filled with promise, purpose, and sustained progress. Our journey thus far is not merely an end but a foundation upon which future achievements will be built.

Ongoing Projects: Building on Solid Ground

Numerous impactful projects are already underway, set to advance our community further:

Senator Oluremi Tinubu Primary Healthcare Centre:
Poised to significantly enhance healthcare access and quality in Ijeh, Dolphin Estate, this modern facility symbolizes our unwavering dedication to community wellness.

Falomo Towers Redevelopment:
This ambitious mixed-use project aims to revive economic and social vibrancy at the heart of Ikoyi, showcasing our commitment to sustainable urban development.

Urban Infrastructure Initiatives:
Ongoing road rehabilitation and drainage projects, such as those on Probyn Road, Bayo Kuku Street, and Royal Palm Drive, underscore our ongoing dedication to reliable infrastructure that meets residents' daily needs.

Forward-Focused Vision by Sector

Each key sector within Ikoyi-Obalende holds its vision, guiding our community toward shared, long-term aspirations:

Infrastructure:
Continued emphasis on modern, resilient, and sustainable urban developments that improve daily life and drive economic activity.

Healthcare:
Expansion of accessible, technology-enhanced medical facilities and services, ensuring healthcare remains a right, not a privilege.

Education:
Deepened investment in digital education infrastructure, scholarship programs, and vocational training to equip our youth for tomorrow's opportunities.

Empowerment:
Strengthening economic resilience through targeted programs that support small businesses, entrepreneurs, and vulnerable community groups.

Environment:
Enhanced efforts in sustainability, waste management, green spaces, and climate-responsive initiatives, securing environmental health for future generations.

The Power of Partnerships

17 PARTNERSHIPS FOR THE GOALS

Our achievements have been amplified through collaborative efforts with private entities, NGOs, and community stakeholders.

We will continue leveraging these valuable partnerships, inviting new ideas, resources, and innovation from the private and public sectors alike. Public-private collaboration will be instrumental in realizing future projects and ensuring sustained impact beyond any single administration.

Invitation for Community Participation & Collaboration

Dear Esteemed Residents and Stakeholders of Ikoyi-Obalende,

As we mark the culmination of another significant chapter of growth and transformation, I remain deeply convinced that the true strength of Ikoyi-Obalende lies in the unwavering commitment and collaborative spirit of its people. Our progress thus far is a testament to the collective dreams, aspirations, and tireless contributions of every resident, stakeholder, and partner.

I extend a heartfelt and open invitation to each one of you to continue playing an active, vital role in the ongoing development and prosperity of our beloved community. Your ideas, perspectives, and active participation are not just welcome, they are essential to ensuring that our shared vision continues to flourish and evolve.

Ways You Can Engage:

- Project Partnerships: Collaborate directly with us on upcoming projects by contributing your expertise, resources, or innovative ideas. Together, we can amplify our impact and drive lasting change.
- Volunteer Opportunities: Participate in our community initiatives, events, and programs, offering your time and skills to make a tangible difference in our neighborhoods.
- Continuous Feedback: Utilize our dedicated community engagement platforms to provide valuable feedback, share your insights, suggest improvements, and help shape our future initiatives.

We are committed to maintaining an inclusive environment where collaboration, transparency, and shared responsibility guide our journey forward. Your ongoing involvement ensures that the community we build together remains vibrant, resilient, and responsive to everyone's needs.

As we transition into a promising future, your active participation remains invaluable. Let us continue working together, guided by vision, driven by conviction, and always measured by our collective impact.

Hon. Fuad Atanda-Lawal
Executive Chairman,
Ikoyi-Obalende LCDA

Commitment to Continuity

The foundation laid in the previous years will not be allowed to falter. Plans have been carefully put in place to ensure the seamless continuation of policies, projects, and community engagement practices. Future administrations, empowered by existing frameworks, will carry forward this legacy of purposeful and impactful governance.

As always we invite every resident, stakeholder, and partner to remain engaged, proactive, and invested in the shared journey toward a prosperous, united, and vibrant Ikoyi-Obalende.
